

Chief Executive Law Society of Jersey (part-time)

The Law Society of Jersey is the governing body for lawyers practising as Advocates and Solicitors of the Royal Court of Jersey. It acts as the professional association for locally qualified lawyers and provides for disciplinary procedures within the profession.

The Society is seeking to appoint a Chief Executive to ensure effective leadership and coordination and implementation of the Society's development and business objectives. The Chief Executive will also provide effective and proactive support service to the President, the Law Society and all of its members

This position, reporting to the President of The Law Society and working closely with the Society's various Committees and members will primarily provide executive support to the President in dealing with matters affecting the Society and to represent the Society on matters that affect its members and member firms. It is anticipated that the post will be part-time although, owing to the importance of the role, will occasionally be time demanding.

While a legal background or legal qualification would undoubtedly be of value, candidates who can demonstrate a regulatory or governmental background or an understanding of the Jersey legal environment will be considered. Candidates will have management presence, be able to think and act strategically, have excellent interpersonal skills and be organised and motivated to work at the highest ethical standards in representing such an important body as the Law Society.

Applicants should apply personally to Bob Hassell for a confidential discussion about the position.
